

LEMELSON-MIT InvenTeams™

2017 InvenTeams Community Engagement Update December 2016

Highlights:

- Poolesville High School's InvenTeam was interviewed by WJLA, the local ABC station, quoting the teacher, Jack Stansbury, and two team leads, Sreya Vangara and Sahil Mayenkar. The article also included video coverage and social media posts.
- Kellye Lynn, the reporter that interview the Poolesville InvenTeam, posted a few short videos of the team on twitter.
- Concept Schools, the non-profit that developed the various Horizon Science Academies, sent an email to its contacts (including Leigh) congratulating the Horizon Cleveland High School InvenTeam with a group photo of the team.
- The Edney Innovation Center in Chattanooga, TN invited the STEM School InvenTeam to discuss the progress on their bike safety project, Tony was also in attendance.
- InvenTeams are hard at work on their projects, many of them are keeping up with posting on social media and working through their holiday break: Charles R. Drew Charter Senior Academy, DIY Girls, and Tustin High School for example.
- The Poolesville InvenTeam also received a donation and letter from the Lehrman Family, who had family members that became unalbe to use cash without assistance later in life.
- Greenbrier East High School's InvenTeam teacher, Kevin (Bryon) Warfield received a certificate of recognition from the Governor of West Virginia for being chosen to receive an InvenTeam grant. The local NBC affiliate, WVVA, also wrote another article on the InvenTeam with an accompanying video, Tony is included in the video.

